SHULER DECLARES GANG, RICH RULE NATION, WEALTH

Lions and Guests Told That Country in Throes of Lawlessness

LACK OF FAITH CITED

Speaker Makes Short Reference to Latest L. A. Investigation

What's wrong with this country is that people have lost faith in each other, the rich men have control of the government and the nation's products, and justice has gone astray, Rev. Robert P. Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Los Angeles, told the Lions club and guests at the meeting in the Red Hill Country club yesterday noon.

Gangsters have gotten such a control that juries are afraid to convict them and the foundations of American government are tottering Rev. Shuler declared. and said that America's foundation was tottering.

He placed the responsibility for the condition on the shoulders of the extremely rich, "the bureaucratic system of government, and the attitude of the people toward laws."

During his address he referred only once to the current investigation of the American Mortgage company. "Hearst and I are in a battle and I guess we will be until one of us goes down," he declared. "He thought he had something on me until the auditor's made a report. They couldn't trace even one thin dime to me. That is all I'll say now, but I'll give the rest of it over the raido tonight."

Guests at the meeting equalled the number of club members. Rev. Shuler's announced appearance attracted many Uplanders and several from Ontario besides the club members. Harold W. Cook, president, was in charge of the meeting, with Vernon V. Paine, program chairman.

"A short time ago, three gangsters were on trial in Long Beach for robbery and shooting a police officer," he continued. "And were they convicted? No. I had talked to the officer whose back was broken by the bandit's bul-

ANTI-HOARDING TO BE DRIVE OBJECT

L. R. Bradley Asked by Col. Knox to Lead Movement Here

Upland chamber of commerce was today asked by Col. Frank Knox, Chicago, head of President Hoover's national anti-hoarding campaign, to cooperate in the movement to bring into circulation hidden money.

John G. Mott, Los Angeles financier, who has been named state chairman in the anti-hoarding drive, will be the speaker at a meeting in San Bernardino Monday noon. President L. R. Bradley and Secretary Clair Kirk of the chamber of commerce, will attend this meeting and get definite plans as to the program in the county.

Col. Knox sent Mr. Bradley a night letter asking the cooperation of the local group in the national campaign. After the San Bernardino meeting, it is expected that plans will be made locally to get persons who are hoarding money here, to place it in circulation.

Campaigns in other communities are reported to have resulted in a considerable increase in the circulation of money.

Santa Fe Crossing Is Sought by City

An application to the railroad commission to make a right-of-way over the Santa Fe spur at Fourteenth street, will be made by the city as the result of action taken by the city council last night.

The crossing is to be used by the Commercial Rock company, a rock crusher, operating at Fourteenth street and Campus avenue.

Student Editors For The News Selected

Four journalism students from the University of Southern California will edit the issue of the Upland News appearing on Friday, March 25. The work will be done under the supervision of Marc N. Goodnow, field representative of the department of journalism at the university.

The staff will be composed of the following students: Gene Handsaker, editor; Dorothy Thompson, society editor; Vivian Crawford and Claudis Shirley, reporters.

"Field trips" are arranged every year by the department of journalism for the students so that they may supplement their classroom work with practical experience in editing newspapers. Other papers that will be edited by students during Easter vacation week include the Burbank Review, the Orange News, the Claremont Courier, and the San Fernando Sun. The first two mentioned are dailies, of which the Saturday, March 26, issues will be prepared by the students.

Editions of the Inglewood Californian and Corona Independent, both daily papers, have been edited by S. C. journalism majors this year.

ATTITUDE CHANGE OVER WATER HERE

City, Company Officials Are More Optimistic Over Outlook

Optimism and certainty concerning water matters has replaced the doubt and worry city and water company officials formerly held concerning the water uotlook here.

The heavy rains so far have brought about the change in attitude toward the underground supply, although only a few of the wells have actually shown any high water levels. Richard G. Manley, city service manager, reported to the councilmen last night that the city's wells in the upper part of the district have a slightly higher level.

It will be several months before the wells in the lower part of the district show any appreciable improvement. The rain total for the season is 26.23 inches, and it is expected a few more inches will be added in the anticipated late rains.

Interest here has waned in the liklihood of the city getting any Colorado river water through the Metropolitan Water district. The Metropolitan district is not so popular here and in other communities as it was before the heavy rains came. Some sentiment is being shown in Long Beach to withdraw from the Metropolitan water district.

Right-of-Way On Tenth Is Purchased

Straightening of the wash east of Twelfth avenue at Tenth street and building of a bridge over the wash will be the first steps in the widening of East Tenth street. The city last night authorized the purchase of land from Arthur Pehl to be used as the right-of-way in straightening out the curve in the road. The right-of-way is to cost $200.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, said today that work would be started immediately in the construction of the bridge and that the other road work would be rushed.

FASTER P. E. TIME FROM UPLAND MAY BE REALIZED SOON

Route of Car Line Within L. A. May Cut Loss and Speed To Be Increased

RAPID TRANSIT FAVORED

Chamber Considers Possibility of Getting Running Time of Cars Reduced

Upland civic leaders were today watching with interest the developments concerning the union railroad depot in Los Angeles and its effect on the Pacific Electric route into the metropolitan center.

Possibility of the electric line establishing a rapid transit route between here and Los Angeles was given new consideration today when it was indicated that the P. E. will be required to terminate its route at the union depot. This route would eliminate much time in going into the city.

More than a year ago, the possibility of the Pacific Electric maintaining a faster running time into the city was proposed. Agitation was dropped at that time due to the tangled condition of traffic and the street car line in getting to the P. E. depot at Sixth and Main. With the union depot as the likely terminal for the line, possibility of the faster service is more certain.

Faster service into Los Angeles is expected to be of benefit to Upland and other inland cities in that Los Angeles business men could reside even as far out as San Bernardino and get to their office with very little loss of time.

Edward E. Gray, city attorney, when vice president of the chamber, was in touch with Pacific Electric officials. He was given the assurance that a rapid service was possible and would likely be realized when the route of the P. E. within Los Angeles was definitely determined.

Clair E. Kirk, chamber secretary, today said that the matter would be given attention and that everything possible would be done to see that Upland and the communities got the fastest possible service.

Rev. Eyster Named College President

Rev. J. R. Eyster, acting president of Beulah college, was named president for a year by the California Conference of Brethren in Christ church at a meeting here recently. Rev. Eyster resigned from the board of trustees to accept the presidency position, his place on the board being taken by Rev. B. M. Books. Rev. Books along with Rev. H. K. Sheets, Pasadena, was named assistant moderator of the conference. Bishop J. H. Wagaman was named moderator.

Alvin Eschelman is secretary and Jesse Wenger, Pasadena, is reading clerk of the conference. H. Trautman was elected treasurer and re-elected as trustee.

Sleuman Baby Near Death, Is Report

Little hope was given today for the recovery of the 2½ year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Vernon Sleuman. Suffering for some time with heart disease, the little girl is now recovering from an attack of pneumonia. She is in a Los Angeles hospital for special attention. Mr. and Mrs. Sleuman are also residing temporarily in Los Angeles.

The girl's heart is so weak that oxygen is supplied every night, it was reported today by Mrs. F. E. O'Brien, relative of the family. Rev. Robert C. Stone and Mrs. O'Brien visited the baby yesterday.

Mrs. Brown Suffers Arm Fracture Today

Mrs. George W. Brown, Mountain avenue and Nineteenth street, suffered the fracture of her right arm this morning as she fell from a step ladder. She was cleaning windows and lost her balance on the ladder and fell.

She was taken to the San Antonio Community hospital, where the fracture was reduced, but it was expected she would return to her home this afternoon.

Costs of Keeping City Clean— Manley Tells How Much and Why

In order that taxpayers may know more about their city, its costs and income, Richard G. Manley, city service manager, is today submitting the second in a series of articles. Today he discusses the sanitary department of the city giving costs and functions.

By Richard G. Manley, City Service Manager

This department is divided into four major classifications, namely street cleaning, garbage and rubbish collections, sewage disposal and miscellaneous such as cleaning vacant lots, etc.

Estimated expenditure for fiscal year ending June 30, 1932:

Class.	Labor	Exp.	Total
St. clean. ..	$3,000	$25	$3,025
Garb., rub. ..	2,500	725	3,225
Sewage storm drain	600	172	772
Misc.	300
	$6,400	$942	$7,342

Estimated revenue

Garbage collections	$1,800
Cleaning lots	320
	$2,120

It will be noticed from the figures above that 87½ per cent of the cost of the sanitary department is for labor, the balance is for the running expenses of the garbage truck, water for the sewer system and a few tools.

Let us consider street cleaning as our first item. All our street sweeping is done by hand as the city is not large enough to profitably own and operate a power sweeper. After the rubbish is swept into piles it is picked up by trucks and hauled to the wash. Most of this work is done around the business district where one man is employed continually the year around. At least three times a year, the streets in the residential section are cleaned up also. This work costs $3,250. The streets could be cleaned more often, but this would increase the cost and as the city council is trying to keep down the costs as much as possible we are doing only what is absolutely necessary.

Next I would like to take up the subject of garbage collection. We have had many inquiries as to why the city of Upland makes a charge for collecting garbage. Why not free grabage service like other cities have they ask.

CITRUS ADDITION TO BE FINISHED EARLY IN MONTH

Lemon Growers' Building To Be Used by April 5, Is Plan Today

TO BE LEMON STORAGE

New Structure Completed in Time to Serve Current Season

Construction of the addition to the Upland Lemon Growers association packing house will be completed by April 1 and equipment will be placed so that the first fruit can be stored by April 5, L. R. Bradley, secretary, said today in speaking of the progress of the work.

The building will be finished just time to make it unnecessary for the association to place fruit in other packing houses for storage. The new addition will be used as a storage structure, it being necessary in the past for the association to place lemons in the buildings of other associations.

Work on the building has moved along on schedule. It has formed the major construction job in the citrus district. This is the first unit in the proposed building program of the lemon growers group. Plans for the second unit are being made, but it is not contemplated to build it this season.

Persons Wanting to Aid in Boys, Girls Work Asked to Act

Persons who want to have a part in financing the work of the Boy Scouts and the Girls Work Organization in Upland will aid those in charge of the financial campaign if they will respond immediately with contributions.

Of the 300 solicitation letters issued by the committee in charge, Fred E. Draper, chairman, more than 50 have responded. Upland is asked to pay only 7½ per cent of the cost of maintaining the Old Baldy council of the Boy Scouts, while 12 per cent of the scouts in the council are from Upland, Mr. Draper pointed out. In the council are 823 Scouts, with 210 adult persons giving of their time to the cause.

In the Chaffey Communitg Girls Work Organization are 864 girls and 67 adults are giving of their time. Sum of $2000 is being sought from local people and Mr. Draper declared that this money is badly needed.

ROBT. HAWTHORNE DIES FROM INJURY

Memorial Service Today for Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hawthorne

As the result of injuries received in a fall at his home Wednesday afternoon, Robert E. Hawthorne, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Hawthorne of West Eighth street, died a few hours later at the San Antonio Community hospital, his death being a shock to the entire community and bringing tragic grief to his bereaved parents.

The body was cremated this morning in Pomona and memorial service was held this afternoon at 2:30 at the Upland Presbyterian church, Dr. Irvin A. Engle of the Methodist church, Dr. R. C. Stone of the Presbyterian church and Lex Lucas, Boy Scout executive of the Chaffey district, taking part in the service.

As the family returned to their home, an airplane flew over the ranch scattering the ashes over the area that the boy had known and loved as his home. Taps were sounded by a Boy Scout.

Young Robert was doing some work on the rear porch of the residence when he fell several feet to the cement steps of the basement, fracturing his skull. Although at first he did not seem to be seriously injured, yet a physician was summoned. However, within a short time the boy became unconscious and when the physician arrived he was rushed to the hospital where an emergency operation was performed, but the lad was beyond human aid. The accident occurred at 3:30 and he passed away at 7:50.

Robert was a member of the Upland Methodist church and was a Boy Scout, belonging to Upland troop No. 1. He loved his scout work and was advancing rapidly in scouting. He was a favorite among his fellow scouts and other playmates and with his father, assistant scoutmaster of his troop, he and other young scouts enjoyed many hikes in the mountains.

A group of Boy Scouts were among the large concourse of friends who gathered this afternoon for the memorial service in the Presbyterian church, held there in order that the organ music that Robert loved might be a part of the service. Many lovely floral tributes were sent by friends.

Robert leaves to mourn his passing his parents, his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hawthorne; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Etta Johnston and great grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Farnsworth, and a number of other relatives.

FOOTHILL SIGNS ARE TO STAY IF SENTIMENT HEARD

State Official Fails to Appear and Letters From Many Are Filed

PRESENT PLAN FAVORED

"Stop" Signs Solve Problem, Local People State to City Council

No state official was present at the meeting of the city council last night to protest against the presence of stop signs on Foothill boulevard at Euclid avenue.

On file, however, were more than 60 letters, asking the city council not to permit removal of the signs and giving the experience of local people in crossing the much-traveled highway. In general, the letter writers declared the present system of "stop" signs as the best way of regulating the traffic. As some of the letters were from organizations, it was estimated that nearly 3,000 persons were represented by the missives. City Clerk Ernest C. Mehl presented the council with a stack of letters several inches thick.

Proposed removal by the state of the stop signs brought letters of protest from as far east as San Bernardino and one person in Narod told of his experiences at the local intersection and expressed hope the signs would always remain up.

It was expected that a representative of the state highway department would be at the council meeting and formally protest against the placing of the signs. The official was not there. T. R. Woodbridge, former mayor, Henry G. Tinsley, Clair E. Kirk and Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer were at the meeting besides the council.

Without the signs, the letters pointed out, local people at times would have to wait indefinitely to cross the highway on Euclid avenue. One woman recited that she was forced to wait seven minutes—by actual timing—before she could cross, due to the heavy stream of Foothill traffic.

When the signs were ordered in several months ago, Edward E. Gray, city attorney, anticipated some objection from the highway commission. He said he was all prepared last night to "go to bat with them." There was an apparent air of disappointment among the officials and visitors when the state official did not

REV. WM. A. BROWN WILL SPEAK HERE

Good Friday Service Will Be Held March 25 in Presbyterian Church

The churches of Upland will hold their annual Good Friday service from 2:30 to 3:45 on Friday, March 25, in commemoration of Christ's death on the cross. The service will be held in the Presbyterian church.

Special music will be furnished by the Beulah college trio, which is composed of the Misses Sarah Wolgemuth, Leoda Smith and Janna Goins. They will render two numbers: "When I See My Saviour" and "Alone."

The speaker for the service is Rev. William A. Brown of Anaheim. Dr. Brown has been a missionary to the Pampangans, and also held various important pastorates in the Philippine Islands and in Argentine.

With the merchants agreeing to close their houses of business for the service, and with the coming of such a great church leader, and because of the importance of the day, the Ministerial Union anticipates an attendance that will fill the Presbyterian church again, as it has been filled so often in the past.

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for Him: fret not thyself because of Him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.—Psalm, 37:7.

The March King Marches On

Since the death of John Philip Sousa last week we've been "listening in" on a number of programs in memory of that internationally famous author and musician. And we believe it is generally conceded that the marches written by Mr. Sousa have no equal, hence the title of "The March King" was bestowed upon him.

As a kid—many years ago—we remember of having been thrilled clear up and down the spinal column when the old home town band played such stirring marches as "Washington Post," "El Capitan," and others composed by that famous bandmaster. In those days the name of Sousa, or any other composer, meant nothing to us, but as the music of his stirring marches reverberated upon the air there was an inevitable thrill experienced by all who heard it.

Sousa kept on writing music through all the years until almost at the close of his 77 years—and that wonderfully stirring march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," which seems to have become what might be termed our national march, is admittedly the greatest march ever written.

For most of the big expositions and other notable occasions during the life of "The March King" he has been called upon to write the official selections. And one of the highest marks of distinction and recognition for a musician is to be able to say he has played in Sousa's band. He was truly "the grand old man" of the musical world in his day—and though his earthly career has come to an end his memory will linger and his music be played as long as music exists.

The Covina Argus pays him this tribute: "They laid his body away this week. Just a few nights ago, leading his band in a radio broadcast, we heard his voice in explanation of a musical number, and it was tremulous and unstable—the voice of an old man, whose time of dissolution was near. But his work in the musical field will continue indefinitely. Bands will swing out on parade with the crashing harmony that came from his mind. Audiences will rise and cheer as the flag goes by and his great marches reverberate in the stadium and auditorium. The March King is dead.. But for uncounted years his spirit will be on every field of sports, at every patriotic rally, as alive and as pulsating as if one could still see that old musical warrior beating time to the 120-to-the-minute rhythm. Hail and farewell to the incomparable bandmaster."

Seems that both the drys and the wets are jubilant over the vote in the House of representatives on Monday by which the wet proposal to take up for immediate consideration the proposed repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, giving the states the right to determine their individual policy in the matter, was defeated. The matter still rests in the pigeon hole and will probably not be resurrected again this session. The wets feel elated because they have showed some gain in the vote—and the drys feel good because they still are in the majority. One thing which is very emphatically evident from the vote is that it cannot well be considered a party issue, as the vote was very close in both parties; that is, Republicans and Democrats polled very nearly the same number of votes both for and against in Monday's confab. However, in our humble judgment the liquor laws of the country should be uniform—it is not a matter for each state to decide. The same should apply to divorce laws. A national law should govern this important matter—and those "off with the old and on with the new" marriages should be done away with as soon as possible. The easy divorce laws which exist in some of the states are a disgrace to the country.

"Winter lingers in the lap of spring" is the quotation we used to hear quite frequently back in that part of the country where they have real winters, but it seems that out here in California winter is going to lap over into summer. Reports now are that winter sports will be the order in some of the high mountainous regions this summer. Snow drifts 45 to 50 feet deep are reported at Twin Lakes, near Mammoth, and on the Sierra divide the snow is so deep it cannot be measured with the apparatus used for that purpose. Judging by the snow-capped peaks in this territory there will be winter sports available up into late summer—and maybe until the snow comes again next fall.

It is claimed that 25 per cent of the real property in a north central state has reverted to the counties because of the inability or disinclination of property owners to pay high taxes. If another 25 per cent is abandoned, which may happen, one-half the land in that state will be taxed to support the other half. Perhaps that would convince state governments that taxation can become confiscatory.

If a lot of us fellows aren't in business for our health these days what are we in it for? Some of us are hanging onto the old job because we can't get away from it. Those fortunate ones who don't own a business can quit their job if they don't like it—but we have to stick to ours because we own it, or because it owns us.

Other Editors' Ideas

Surrender—

Covina Argus: Who are they that govern this country?

All our boasted moral power; our high-sounding phrases concerning the sacredness of the home; our Anglo-Saxon firmness for the right; our belief in ability to govern ourselves—and we must appeal to the underworld abjectly and in a spirit of unrestrained bargaining, to return a stolen baby to its mother.

We cannot blame Lindbergh, for there is but one idea in his mind, as in our minds, which is the return of the child. But in this extremity, we recognize the gangster world as a part of our government, participating in the regulation and the administration of our government, taking their places in the counsels of our government. Openly now, if secretively in the past.

Our plight is made more pitiable because of our written and spoken ideals. Our trouble is found in ideals without application; in sonorous phrases piled higher than the Tower of Babel in our press and literature, and without the will of application in practice. Or, seemingly so.

Can this nation rediscover its heart and courage that was bequeathed by the forefathers, or must we become partners with criminals, and accept them on an equal plane as rulers and dictators? We are reaping the results of moral cowardice, the like of which the world has never before seen save in those instances where the lack of character carried civilized nations down to oblivion.

Either we assume charge of the government of this nation, or the gangsters will take it. Is this decadence, or the grim interim before the awakening?

This Is America, Not Russia

Hemet News: Mr. Brisbane in his column says: "You hear about a two-billion-dollar government fund for banks and other corporations, about helping railroads; but what do you hear about helping the hundred and twenty-odd millions of unimportant little people?"

Honestly now, Mr. Brisbane, are you proud of that remark?

If the government raised two billion dollars by taxation and divided it among the poor and the unemployed, it would not make a single job for anybody, and when it was gone, all would be worse off than they were before, because the taxation would have lessened the ability of finance and industry to get going again.

But two billion dollars as a back-log of credit to enable bankers to lend, and industry to borrow the money necessary to go to work, may very easily start the fires of industry going at such a pace that presently there will be a job for everybody.

"Most Damnable Influence"

La Habra Star: Giannini built Transamerica and Wall street took it away from him and nearly wrecked it before he could get it back. Wall street took Fox Films away from those who knew how to run it, and wrecked that. Wall street has stolen many railroads from the real railroad men who could handle them successfully, and the result was wreckage. Wall street and its big bankers who can see nothing but the money side of anything are the most damnable influence in the United States. There is little essential difference between the man who takes any useful or valuable thing and prostitutes it to base purposes, and the nasty snake who does the same with a woman.

PLACING OF TREES ON 10TH IS URGED

Removal of Eucalyptus for Widening Brings Suggestion of Uniform Plan

It has been suggested to property owners on West Tenth street that a uniform tree planting program be adopted on completion of the widening of that thoroughfare. All the trees in the right-of-way along the route have been removed by order of the county and city officials, and the final widening work will be completed within a short time.

In discussing the planting of trees today, Richard G. Manley, city service manager, said that he had written to the Tenth street property owners, suggesting that they unite and decide on a uniform planting program. Before the large eucalyptus trees were ordered out, city officials suggested the possibility of new trees being planted.

Work of widening the street is progressing under the direction of the county, the north side of the street having already been widened and the south portion of the artery will be finished soon.

Many in the community expressed regret in the cutting down of what were described as the oldest trees in the city. Not only the property owners, but also others in the city are looking to the time when new trees will be planted there.

5 Leading Soloists Will Be in Cantata

Five of the leading soloists of the southwest have been secured for Bach's "The Passion of Our Lord According to Saint Matthew," which is being presented as the outstanding musical event of the week preceding Easter in Bridges auditorium, Claremont, on March 24, and the next evening in the Memorial Chapel, University of Redlands.

In this oratorio the narrative is carried by the tenor and Hardesty Johnson of Los Angeles will sing this role. Blythe Taylor Burns, of Los Angeles, is to be the soprano soloist; Clemence Gifford, also of Los Angeles, the contralto; Charles Ross, of Pomona, the baritone, and Everton Stidham, of San Bernardino, the bass.

Batcheldor Near Death in Attempted Suicide

John W. Batchelor is today in a critical condition in the San Bernardino county hospital as the result of an attempted suicide early Wednesday morning. His throat was slashed, the windpipe being nearly severed.

Friends of Mr. Batchelor had learned recently he was subject to mental lapses and it was believed that in a fit of fear he attempted to take his life. His body was found on the bathroom floor in the Batchelor residence at 1921 Second avenue. Floyd Batchelor, a son, residing near Los Angeles, who was called to Upland by Mrs. Batchelor a few days ago, found his father's body.

"THE WET PARADE" DELUGE OF DRAMA CHOSEN BY SID GRAUMAN

"The Wet Parade," which opened at Grauman's Chinese theatre in Hollywood last night, is based on Upton Sinclair's book of the same title. Prohibition, politics and modern American life form the complex background for one of the most dramatic romances the screen has seen in some time.

One of the Sid Grauman mammoth prologues which has made his Chinese theatre famous introduces this wonderful picture, treating on modern problems.

"High Stakes" To Be Featured at Theater

The "inside" story of the baby-faced ladies who prey upon the loneliness of wealthy men comes to the Upland theater starting on Sunday.

Radio Pictures' "High Stakes" takes this situation and makes of it an exciting, swift melodrama, thrilling yet amusing in the situations it depicts.

Lowell Sherman, gay Lothario of many stage and screen successes, is the star-director of this latest pictorial achievement. "High Stakes" follows the countrywide praise lavished on him by critics everywhere for his performance in and direction of "Bachelor Apartment."

The role portrayed by Sherman in "High Stakes" is the same he played some years ago on the stage when "High Stakes" was one of Broadway's outstanding entertainments from the pen of Willard Mack.

Mae Murray, stage and screen favorite, once more tosses her blonde head in support of Sherman as she did in "Bachelor Apartment." Except that in "High Stakes" Miss Murray has the unsympathetic role of an alluring "confidence" woman out to "take" from the millions of a foolish and aging millionaire.

Motion Pictures of Africa Tonight 7:30

The Rev. Mr. Lehman is well known to many church people in Upland, some of whom have worked with him in Africa, and his lecture is expected to be one of unusual interest.

Admission will be free and the public is cordially invited to attend.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY HOSTESS CLUB

Miss Correnne Hedges Becomes Club President; Other Officers Named

Miss Correnne Hedges is the new president of the Upland Hostess club, her election to that position having taken place Monday evening during the dinner meeting held at the home of Mrs. R. S. Hood on West Tenth street.

Miss Lois LeBaron Avery, advisor of the club, was the official critic.

The Saint Patrick's motif was used in the dinner table appointments and decorations.

Attending the dinner meeting were Mrs. M. H. Moremen, Miss Lois LeBaron Avery, Miss Gertrude Greenlee, Miss Dorothy Smith, Miss Rhoda Widmer, Miss Correnne Hedges, Miss Lela McClelland and Miss Esther Anderson.

Students To Be in "Thank You" Contest

An anti-hoarding drive will be conducted in connection with the annual Chaffey high school invitational track meet April 16. That is, the Chaffey students will have part in a campaign to release some hoarded "thank yous" between April 6 and April 14.

Seventeen Upland and Ontario firms financially sponsor the meet. Students will be in a contest to thank these merchants for their support. Cards, bearing the names of all the sponsors will be issued the students.

The first four students returning the cards signed by the merchants will be given bronze medals and cash prizes from $1 to $5. To get the merchants' names, the students are to call and express their thanks for the support.

The plan is being sponsored by Ernest W. Fischer, Chaffey vice-principal, who is in charge of athletic activities.

Upland firms among the sponsors are Mac, the Medicine Man, J. J. Atwood company, Mehl Hardware company, Empire Realty and Mortgage company, First National bank and Alan A. Couch.

Warmer, chairman, will be in session, and the speaker will be W. W. Mather of the Chaffey faculty. Benefit Bridge Tea at Club House Is Delightful Event

Proving to be an outstanding financial as well as social success, the benefit bridge tea held Thursday afternoon by the Upland Woman's club in the attractive club house on Second avenue, was a delightful event, thoroughly enjoyed by more than 125 club women and non-member guests.

The elaborate floral decorations of the spacious club auditorium and lounges would have delighted even the most loyal of Irish colleens. Lovely white iris, bridal wreath and white flowering almond blossoms combined with a profusion of greenery were seen in artistic arrangements throughout the club house, and the St. Patrick's color motif was extended to the appointments for the bridge tables and the tea menu.

Thirty card tables were occupied by the guests and a variety of card games were played, with bridge proving the most popular. No prizes were offered by the club, but several hostesses entertaining friends at one or more tables, presented score prizes to their guests.

Late in the afternoon a delightful tea was served at a beautifully appointed table. The entire handsome tea service was of silver with the appointments and decorations in green contrasting effectively with the white of the lovely table linen.

Mrs. Nora M. Eells, club president, and Mrs. S. M. Jessup presided at the tea table, while Mrs. C. A. Baeuerlen and Mrs. John W. Shepperson had charge of the refreshments; Mrs. W. A. Mackay and Mrs. William Atchley arranged the beautiful decorations, and Mrs. R. R. Harrington was in charge of the bridge tables, and others assisting were Mrs. O. A. Thompson, Mrs. W. E. Morse, Mrs. M. E. Hilty, Mrs. B. H. Strother and Mrs. Alfred Kipp.

The event was held as a benefit for the club treasury and because of generous donations there was no expense, leaving the entire amount received, $73.20, clear profit for the club.

The literature section meeting will precede the annual joint session of the Ontario and Upland clubs to be held in the Ontario club house at 2:30.

The desire to share the opportunity of hearing first hand information about Russia as presented by Mr. Allen, who has spent much time in that country, prompted the invitation to the Upland club women.

Anyone desiring transportation to either the section meeting or the later club meeting, is requested to notify Mrs. Frank M. Baxter or Mrs. Una R. Winter.

Mrs. J. F. Hamilton and Mrs. Fred Wilding, as co-hostesses, delightfully entertained members of the G. T. Embroidery club at a noon-day turkey dinner given on Tuesday at the Hamilton home on West Seventh street.

The dinner menu was a most delicious one and the table was especially attractive, the appointments being in orange and green. The color motif was repeated in the floral decorations, orange colored calendulas and greenery being used effectively.

Mrs. F. L. Irwin Guest of Los Serranos Chapter, D.A.R.

Mrs. F. L. Irwin of Hollywood, national vice-chairman of patriotic education, was the speaker at the meeting of Los Serranos chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jac Schorr, 201 East H street, Ontario.

Mrs. Irwin spoke interestingly of the important work being done by the national D. A. R. organization in helping the southern mountain schools. The Tamasee and Kate Duncan schools are supported entirely by the D. A. R., she stated, while many others receive substantial aid from various chapters.

Because of illness Mrs. J. W. Onstott, regent, was unable to be present and Mrs. Amos Colborn, vice-regent, presided over the business session, during which interesting reports of the state conference were made by Mrs. Colborn, Mrs. Chester Gore, Mrs. May Hart Smith, Mrs. M. H. Beiderman, Mrs. Miles Harnly and Mrs. J. L. Short.

Mrs. Beiderman, who now resides in Los Angeles, has received special recognition from the chairman of Americanization work at the Ukrainian center in Los Angeles, where, as a representative of Los Serranos chapter, she is teaching, giving her services one night each week.

During the social hour that followed the business session, Mrs. Schorr was assisted by Miss Tessie Bennett, Mrs. W. A. Marten, Mrs. C. A. Mayo and Mrs. L. E. Coon.

Practically every member of the club is eagerly looking forward to the April meeting for at that time the motion pictures taken by Mrs. Edna Swan at the March costume party are to be shown and according to reports they will equal a real show.

In addition to bringing a dish for the dinner, the members also are to bring 25 cents to defray the expense of making the pictures. Mrs. Swan also will receive orders for the group pictures, which are especially fine and which a number of the members already have secured.

The program committee includes Mrs. L. H. Cortright, chairman; Miss Fannie Noe, Miss Elizabeth Griggs, Mrs. Clara Jacobs and Miss Eva Mohr.

Delightful Luncheon at Country Club

The monthly bridge luncheon held Tuesday afternoon at Red Hill Country club was a delightful springtime event, approximately 65 guests attending.

Lovely pink flowering peach blossoms and pastel colored sweet peas were used effectively in the floral decorations for the club rooms and the appointments for the attractive luncheon tables were reminding of St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. Veeder South and Mrs. Frank K. Nichols were in charge of arrangements for the event and provided a very pleasant afternoon for the guests.

Mrs. James Barnett of upper Euclid avenue entertained for a large party of friends, her guests occupying 11 tables.

Another hostess was Mrs. James S. Corison of East J street, Ontario, who entertained at four tables.

Others attending the party gathered at the "Dutch treat" tables.

25,000 Persons To Sign Petition in This County, Plan

Efforts will be made to secure 25,000 signatures of persons in San Bernardino county approving the proposed initiative amendment transferring school costs to the state.

A total of 115,000 names will be required to place the amendment on the ballot but 150,000 signatures will be sought to allow for errors in signing and addressing. San Bernardino county, if the plans of the local men succeed, will present one-sixth of the names required from the entire state.

The great register is now being made up and by the end of March the taxation petitions will probably be submitted for signatures. The signature seekers will have until midsummer to complete the work.

The signatures in this county are being sought in large numbers not merely for the numerical strength but for the knowledge each person will have before signing the petition.

While but one in every 10 persons in this county would be enough to fill the quota from this county, the others would not be thoroughly acquainted with the problem, it was said.

Attempts will be made to reach every registered voter if possible and explain the workings of the taxation system and what plan the measure provides.

It was declared that last year the tax dollar produced $449,000,000 for state and local government. Of this amount common property, which is principally land and buildings, yielding $343,000,000. This is nearly fifty million dollars greater than the value of the entire agricultural yield of this state in the same year that these taxes were collected, it was asserted.

FACTS RECITED ON 18TH AMENDMENT

Local Writer Tells Changing Conditions in Several European Countries

By Mrs. J. H. Freeman

By showing their "allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands," loyal citizens brought about the eighteenth amendment for the betterment of conditions. Will they not now show that "allegiance" by upholding and obeying this law? It is not a law which curtails "liberty and justice for all" since in securing "liberty and justice for all' it is often necessary to curb the actions of some in order to preserve the rights of others, as, for example, the drug act. It is not a law which would work harm if obeyed. It is not a law which it is impossible to obey.

Although the United States is the first country to have prohibition, other countries are struggling with this problem, and while some Americans are laying lawlessness to prohibition, these other countries are more and more finding alcoholism the chief cause of crime and poverty, insanity and vagabondage. England is about to have a big celebration of the "centenary of teetotalism" with King George giving it his royal patronage, and with choral festivals and pageants in a thousand cities.

In the London Times appears an article rejoicing over the gain in sobriety, saying, "a degree of intoxication that would have been thought amusing 30 years ago is now regarded as disgusting and a mixture of work and mild insobriety is angrily condemned." In an effort to induce people to drink beer instead of stronger drink, in 1930 a law was passed permitting the general sale of beer with the result of much increased alcoholism.

France no longer caricatures water drinkers as fanatics and weaklings. She realizes that she was saved at the Marne by a total abstainer, Marshall Joffre. Many other noted Frenchmen were or are total abstainers, including Poincaire and the newly elected president, M. Paul Doumer. The psychology textbooks of the French public schools have inaugurated such a vigorous campaign against wine drinking that liquor manufacturers have become alarmed and are fighting back in parliament.

According to W. W. Woodcock, director of prohibition, enforcement is being carried on with increased efficiency. As for cost of enforcement phohibition bureau figures show that for the first nine years the cost of enforcement was $213,179,485; collections from fines, penalties and revenue from taxes on lawfully distilled spirits and fermented liquors were $460,502,792, leaving a net balance of $247,323,307.

Of course there is danger to officers in enforcement of phohibition just as there is in enforcement against murder and stealing and those who faithfully perform this duty are real heroes and to them we should be grateful for this protection, and to save them is one reason all should be willing to boycott bootleggers as a patriotic duty. People sometimes seem to forget that the seemingly mild offense of possessing liquor is often in reality some grave offense that is caused by the liquor.

The National Education association has recently re-affirmed its stand for the eighteenth amendment and its enforcement. Having so much to do with the young people they realize we need to vigilantly guard the eighteenth amendment for the sake of child welfare above all else.

Pupils Score Big Success in Play at Local School

Presented by children of the Tenth street school, under the direction of Miss Jessie Brown, principal, and the corps of teachers, the dramatization of "Glimpses of the Life of Washington" drew a large and enthusiastic audience to the school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Approximately 125 children took part in the program and carried their parts so cleverly that even the "fond parents" were surprised by their splendid performance. At one time a group of little tots of kindergarten age, and even younger, threatened to "stop the show" with their clever antics.

The three main features of the play were presented by pupils of the fourth grade, representing "Washington as a Boy," "Washington as a Surveyor," was depicted by the fifth grade, and "Life at Mount Vernon" was portrayed by pupils of the sixth grade. All of the children were appropriately costumed.

One highly appreciated feature of the program was the singing by a group of girls of the Mennonite church chorus, their number being the song sung at Trenton, N. J., when Washington was on his way to New York to be inaugurated as the first president of the United States.

A small admission price brought in a very satisfactory sum for the school. The entire amount will be used for some improvement about the school building.

Treble Clef Chorus to Render Cantata

During the session the Republican women pledged their support to President Hoover in his candidacy for re-election.

A number of prominent Republican men and women from various points in the county attended the luncheon meeting at which Mrs. R. F. Garner, the club's president, presided.

COMBINED CHOIRS TO SING CANTATA

Methodist, Mennonite Choirs To Present "The Story of the Cross"

The Easter cantata, "The Story of the Cross," by Dudley Buck, will be sung by the combined choirs of the Upland Methodist and the Mennonite churches, the first presentation being on Good Friday night at the Methodist church. The cantata will then be repeated at the Mennonite church on Easter Sunday night.

The combined choir will include at least 50 splendid voices and the chorus singing, as well as the solo and other special numbers, is expected to be very inspiring.

The cantata was sung last Easter by the Upland and Ontario Methodist choirs and was so well received by the two capacity audiences that it was decided to repeat the presentation this year.

The Methodist and Mennonite choirs, Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson and Gerry Schmidt, directors, respectively, are rehearsing faithfully and will be prepared to render the sacred music in a way that will be thoroughly enjoyed by the large audiences that are expected to attend. Mrs. Fanny Gay is accompanist for the combined choir.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
"By the Post Office"
Fred A. Smith, Pastor

The revival has run one week with good results. To use the evangelist's expression, "the gospel plow is going down deep and may turn over some stones," but many of the people seem to like it and stand by.
Evangelist Suffield preaches at both services on the Sabbath at the usual hours and each night through the week except Saturday. All who love the old fashioned Gospel truth will not be disappointed in the messages he brings each night.
The opportunity is at the doors of all who desire to get deep, satisfying experience in the grace of God. Let us all move up.

FIRST CHRISTIAN
Ontario
Shirley R. Shaw, Minister

With 58 young people participating, a splendid Easter pageant will be presented on Sunday evening. Impressive scenic effects will offer a setting for the pageant, under the supervision of Carl Black, a professional artist, who has resided in the community through recent months. The costuming is under the direction of Mrs. Jane Kellar.
"The purpose of the pageant," says Mr. Shaw, "is to make real to the young people who produce it, and to all who have the privilege of seeing it, the resurrection of Christ.
"The pageant comes to its climax ture the feelings and thought-experiences of those Christians of the first century who were called to be witnesses to the world concerning the life and death and resurrection of Christ.
"The pageant coses to its climax in the ecstacies of the disciples after the ascension, and in the adoption of the cross as the insignia of the followers of the Master."

BALDY SUNRISE SERVICE UNIQUE

Richard Headrick, 14-Year-Old Evangelist, Will Preach Easter Morning

An Easter sunrise service planned to interest both the young and old will be held at Sunrise Point, just north of Camp Baldy, at 6:45 a. m. on Easter morning, at which both the preaching and singing will be done by children.

Richard Headrick, 14-year-old boy evangelist, who has inspired throngs of 12,000 persons all over the United States and Canada with his marvelous oratory, will deliver the Easter sermon, and his brother, Edward Early Headrick, 7-year-old boy singer, will lead the singing and will render several solos. There will also be a children's chorus.
Uncle John Daggett's small son will deliver the Lord's prayer.
Richard Headrick has conducted evangelistic meetings since he was 9 years old and has won the admiration of countless thousands by his ability to hold his audiences almost spellbound while he delivers sermons which rival such evangelists as Billy Sunday and Gypsy Smith.
The service is about an hour later than other sunrise services due to the fact that the sun does not come up over Ontario peak, the snow-covered background of Sunrise Point, until 6:45 a. m.
Uncle John Daggett will conduct an Easter egg hunt and egg rolling contest for the children at 11 o'clock.

Dorothy Hill Member Claremont Glee Club

Miss Dorothy Hill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Merton E. Hill, 406 East Eleventh street, Upland, is a member of the Pomona college women's glee club which is now preparing for its annual home concert to be given Friday, March 18, at Bridges hall, Claremont. Miss Hill is a senior and music major at Pomona and is in the club as a new member this year. She will play an organ selection on the concert program and is helping to prepare the special skit which will be a feature of the program in addition to the regular group and solo numbers.
The club is under the direction of Professor Ralph H. Lyman, with Dorothy Leezer as associate director.

Marketing Act Being Backed by Farm Group

United action to support the agriculture marketing act is being taken by members of the San Bernardino county farm bureau, according to H. J. Wilder, farm advisor.
Letters and telegrams urging support of the act are being sent to congressmen, it was said.
Although the act was passed in 1929, opposition to the policy has started a movement to disband the federal farm board, it was said. In fostering cooperation between growers in the marketing of their products, the farm board has incurred the displeasure of trade interests.
These trade interests have now organized to work for the repeal of the act and do away with the board.
The board is attempting to bring about a substantial and permanent improvement in agriculture and to promote the best interests of the farmers, it was declared. The agriculture marketing act is designed to assist agriculture by encouraging producers to organize effective associations under their own control for a greater unit of effort in marketing farm products.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE PLANNED

Upland and Ontario Churches Will Unite in Annual Event in Park

On Easter morning the churches of Ontario and Upland will again observe the sunrise service at San Antonio park. The hour of this service is 5:52 a. m.
Elbert Wing will open the service with a trumpet solo. Easter hymns will be sung from printed programs. The male quartet from the Upland Methodist church will be present to render two special numbers, as well as lead the group singing.
The young people's societies of the West End will have the responsive reading. The reading is based on the Resurrection appearances and is arranged to be read antiphonally by the young women and men of the various societies.
The Rev. Shirley Shaw will deliver the meditation.
Traffic will be directed by Upland Boy Scout troop No. 3, of which Paul Schowalter is scoutmaster.
This annual service is being sponsored by the Ontario-Upland Ministerial Union, the committee in charge of arrangements being the Rev. A. J. Neuenschwander, secretary of the union; the Rev. Herschel R. Griffin, and Ben Schmidt.

CHAFFEY TO BID FOR TRACK HONOR

30 Athletes Will Compete in Huntington Beach Meet Tomorrow

Thirty Chaffey high school athletes will journey to Huntington Beach tomorrow for the annual Southern Counties Invitational track meet, which was won a year ago by the Tigers.

Addition of several stars from the basketball team will bolster the track squad and the aggregation will go into the meet with a fighting chance for victory. Among the basketball players who have been acquired for track work are Cy Gunstream, John Meek, Robert Rothwell and Gilbert Doll.

John Meek will partly replace the loss of his big brother, Dave, who was a strong factor in last year's Chaffey victory.

Santa Ana and San Diego are rated among the most likely contenders besides Chaffey. Schools in all the southland counties, except Los Angeles, will be represented.

Dave Meek Improves in Heaving Big Shot

Dave Meek, who is making a name for himself on the University of California campus as an all-around athlete, was good at heaving the big 16-pound shot before the season started. Under the tutelage, however, of Coach Walter Christie, he has gained more than three feet on his former distance. His latest mark is 45 feet and 9 inches.

Against high school competition while a student at Chaffey, Meek starred in football, basketball and track. Collegiate competition is no different, only perhaps in that he is more of a star than when competing in this district.

"Green Fire" To Be Postponed Two Weeks

"Green Fire," Glenn Hughes' thrilling mystery melodrama of the future, will be staged by the Claremont Community Players on April 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, with a matinee April 16, at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills, instead of two weeks earlier as was originally announced, it was learned in Upland today from Mary C. Blaisdell, Players director.

The change has been made as a cooperative measure in keeping the Scripps college schedule free of conflicting engagements, according to Miss Blaisdell.

Birthday Party for Woodcraft Neighbors

Second anniversary of the organization of Upland Circle No. 889, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will be celebrated tonight when the regular meeting of the circle is held at the I. O. O. F. hall.

At the conclusion of the lodge meeting a box supper will be held, the boxes being sold at auction. The supper will be followed by an interesting program. The program committee includes Mrs. Walter Hewitt, Otto Williams and Stewart Allison.

A number of visitors are expected from neighboring circles.

Civil War To Rage at Chaffey Tonight

A disputed question will be decided and the Chaffey athletic fund will be boosted when the high school and junior college basketball teams clash at 8 o'clock tonight.

The high school five is champion of Southern California and the jaysee squad is runner-up for the southland title. When the two quintets clash, it will be a terrific civil battle. Students in the two institutions naturally favor their respective teams. Among the townspeople, the fives are rated about even.

Gilbert Doll will jump at center for the high school five and his lanky brother, Henry Doll, will play center for the jaysee boys. Captain Cy Gunstream will be in charge of the preps and Captain Clinton Dornbusch will guide the jaysee five. Walter A. Hall, vice-principal, and Roy Vick, faculty member, will be game officials.

Proceeds from the 25-cent admission will be used to provide gymnasium equipment.

MORE FISH TO BE PUT IN STREAMS

J. Dale Gentry Tells Waltonians of Plans to Offer Better Conditions

Every effort will be made by the California Fish and Game commission to give the sportsmen more for their fishing and hunting license and to give to the state the best possible outdoor recreational activities. J. Dale Gentry, new head of the commission, pledged in an address at the meeting of the Orange Belt council Izaak Walton league in the Upland junior high school Tuesday night.

In general he painted a rosy picture for the sportsmen, telling of the commission's determination to provide fish in all possible streams and to propagate quail and other birds to the greatest possible extent. Many policies and aims of the Izaak Walton league have been adopted by the commission, he declared, and said that for the first time in recent history the commission is "out of politics."

Mr. Gentry is a noted sportsman and a feature of the evening was the presentation of moving pictures, taken by Mr. Gentry on recent hunting and fishing expeditions. Hubert L. Manker, president of the local chapter, presided at the session, attended by about 125 persons, including several Boy Scouts.

Mr. Gentry cautioned the sportsmen not to go to any nearby stream and be disappointed in not making a nice catch. It is not possible to place fish in any stream and to keep them there permanently, he pointed out.

Parent-Teacher Assn. Meets

The Etiwanda Parent-Teacher association held its monthly meeting at the school house Wednesday afternoon.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, Mrs. F. F. Roe and Mrs. John Frost was elected to prepare the slate for the election next month of officers for the coming year.

A committee of ladies was appointed to assist with costumes for the May festival. The speaker of the afternoon failed to arrive and the afternoon program was quite brief, including a very entertaining marrionette show put on by Mary Danskin and Mary Margaret Fleming.

A trio arrangement of "A Perfect Day," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, was rendered by Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, piano; Jean Margaret Scott, violin, and Allan Donnelly, cello, which was greatly enjoyed.

Adjournment was made to the domestic science room where delicious cake and tea were served.

Mrs. K. Norwood of Ontario, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Mueller, is much better.

Keeping City Clean Costs and Mr. Manley Tells Why, How Much

When we stop to think of it there is no such thing as free garbage service, some one must pay the bill. In some cities where the population is concentrated the charge for garbage collection can be included in the taxes as most of the people have the service, but in Upland especially in the ranching district it is impossible to collect from 100 per cent of the people. If the charge was included in the taxes the ranchers would pay a large percentage of the cost and receive no benefit whatever, which would be unfair to them. It seems to be more fair to charge only those who receive the service the same as is done in the water department. This is in reality a sales tax and many cities are starting to use this form of taxation, as it is believed to be the most equitable form for some purposes.

In the business district the city collects the papers and all rubbish that is likely to burn at least once a day for the purpose of fire prevention. As this is of general benefit to the whole city this expense is paid out of the taxes.

It takes $772 a year for sewage disposal and for cleaning out storm drains. In the sewer system there are several automatic flush tanks which fill up with water slowly and then discharge rapidly into the pipe lines to keep them flushed out properly. This takes considerable water and costs $162 a year. The roots from the trees along the side of of the streets give us a great deal of trouble at times also as they clog up the lines and must be cut out which is an expensive operation. Every winter the storm drains and the gutters along the streets must be cleaned out two or three time in order to carry off the rain water and keep the orchards from being washed.

Under miscellaneous we have mostly cleaning lots, but this charge is put on the tax bill so that only those who get the service are taxed. Every spring notices are sent out asking people to clean up their vacant lots and cut the weeds. A great many comply but there are some who pay no attention to the notices so these places are posted and the city has the work done assessing the cost to the property.

We formerly had a spring clean up every year and hauled away the trash and rubbish without charge, but we found that this was unfair to some who were paying to have their trash hauled away with their garbage while their neighbor saved his for a year and had it hauled away in the spring clean up without paying.

Shuler Says That Gang and Rich Rule Nation, Resources

lets and who will never walk again and I had talked to others. All the evidence pointed to their guilt.

"I knew a woman on the jury and I had said to myself, 'well, they will never get by her.' The other day I saw this woman and I asked her how it happened, those men weren't convicted. What did the jury have to say?

"'Well,' she said, 'we didn't talk about whether or not they were guilty, we talked about what would happen to us from the gang if they were found guilty.'"

Rev. Shuler cited the imprisonment of Fall and the liberty of another national character as another case where the laws didn't work.

He referred to the procedure in the cancellation of his raido station KGEF as an example of what the bureaus and commissions think of the people's will. He recited how the petitions bearing names of more than 140,000 persons, supporting his plea for keeping the station on the air, were burned in Washington, D. C. A member of the federal radio commission told Shuler, the speaker said, that petitions didn't mean anything.

While the speaker referred to the "millionaire president and the former multi-millionaire secretary of the treasury," he offered no solution for present conditions other than a re-establishment of people's faith in each other. He declared the nation's foundation was uncertain when in a period of over-production, millions of people were going hungry.

He painted a picture of sorrow and suffering as farmers of the grain and cotton producing sections were forced from their homes, "not because of a crop failure, not because of their own inability, but because of a condition created by events in Europe and by the failure of men of money to do their part in aiding during a crisis."

In actions and words, he dramatized the feelings of a man unable to get work, who on returning home night after night was greeted by his hungry wife and children. "What would you do, and what would I do? Well, I am a Christian gentleman, but I believe that I would do something to get food in these times when there is plenty," he declared.

Lack of faith in each other has brought about many ills. "While back, my church wanted to borrow $4,000," the speaker continued, "and I told the audience we would borrow it from the first four persons who came forward after the meeting." He described those who responded and the procedure in getting the money. They did not get it from banks but from safety deposit vaults and places of hiding.

"In all the $4,000 there was not one check," he said.

Rev. Shuler said he could name six persons who could release enough money at one stroke to bring back prosperity.

The speaker is a candidate for United States senator, but no reference was made to that during the meeting. His declarations brought applause and interested attention.
